

Your Security Needs From A True Security Company.

We call this catalog The Lock Book, but there's a lot more than locks in here. There's just about everything you need to meet all your security requirements. We've got four kinds of disk locks, and a wide range of brass and laminated steel padlocks in our Lock America line and our economy Champion by Mr. Lock line.

For the ultimate in roll-up door security The Lock Book showcases the Lock America Enforcer system, from the Original Enforcer System, introduced over 20 years ago, to "The Ultimate Defense," the Master Enforcer System, for the highest level of lock security in the industry. If you want to go beyond the "lock and latch" method to secure your units, go to page 16 to learn more about the Enforcer, the product Lock America introduced that revolutionized self-storage door security.

Besides locks, we have a wide range of replacement latches and security hardware.

Lock America isn't a supply company. We are a security lock company, with 25 years experience supplying lock security to the self-storage industry, and to the amusement, coin-op, gaming and vending industries. Locks are not just an afterthought to us. We built our reputation on them, and we stand behind them with the best warranty in the business. A quality lock is the final barrier against a thief, a complement to your other security devices. Your customers trust you to provide all forms of security. Why shouldn't you provide them with a lock that is built to provide security, not just to give you a bargain price?

The Private Label Program

How can you ensure that your customers are getting the right lock to protect their property, and promote your company at the same time? With private label locks. The Lock America Public Image Program will make you stand out from the competition. As Lu Pettit of S&W Properties puts it: "It's great to have your name on a lock when you're selling it. The customization gets your name out and enhances your brand image."

Lock America will work with you free of charge to design packaging for your locks that broadcasts your pride in your company. Why not let your locks be part of your company brand image and ensure security at the same time? Your logo on the lock says that "We're the security people."

Kathy Orr-Maddox of Devon Storage went for Lock America's Private Label for security and for branding: "It says a whole lot more about a better lock to have our name on it. From our standpoint as a full service business, the lock becomes one more product we endorse for our customers."

The Lock America Private Label program is a great way to broadcast your brand and set the standards for security in your market.

Call one of our customer service specialists to discuss your options. You can choose from a variety of private label programs that Lock America will develop for your particular needs. We'll help you develop your artwork at no charge. Putting together a program requires a lot less than you think. For large quantities, we can even stamp your logo right on the lock.
